PLANNING FOR NAEP ACCOMMODATIONS

This chapter describes how to plan for and implement accommodations for students with disabilities (SD) and English language learners (ELL).

1. The Accommodation Planning Process

In all NAEP schools, accommodations will be provided, as necessary, for students with disabilities (SD) or English language learners (ELL). The accommodations are available to students whose Individualized Education Program (IEP) specifically requires them. Since some ELL students do not have an IEP, decisions about accommodations for these students are typically made by knowledgeable school staff, such as IEP or 504 teams, school psychologists, or teachers.

Not all students who have been identified as SD and/or ELL require test accommodations. The decision about whether an accommodation is needed, and which one to use, is made by the school for each individual student. When it is determined that a student will receive an accommodation for NAEP, you will work with the school coordinator during the preassessment visit to determine how that student typically receives the accommodation(s) in the state assessment. The accommodation(s) each student receives for NAEP should be consistent with those received on the state assessment. If you have questions about whether an accommodation required by a student is allowed on NAEP, contact your field manager for guidance.

In the Preassessment Packet, the school coordinator will receive one SD and/or ELL Questionnaire for each student identified as such on the Administration Schedule. The school coordinator will distribute the questionnaires to the person or persons most knowledgeable about the student's disability or English proficiency. The SD and/or ELL Questionnaires, shown on the following pages, gather information about the accommodations typically required on state assessments and whether or not those accommodations are allowed on NAEP.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
OFFICE OF SPECIAL EDUCATION AND REHABILITATIVE SERVICES

Dear Principal or Administrator:

Thank you for allowing your school to participate in the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP). These assessments are vital to measuring the academic skills and progress of the students in our nation and in each state.

As you know, the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) requires that all students with disabilities participate in state and district wide assessment programs through regular assessments, including with appropriate accommodations when necessary, or alternate assessments. The No Child Left Behind Act (NCLB) likewise requires the participation of students with disabilities in the student academic assessments required under that Act, and also requires that English language learners, as well as other groups of students, participate in those state assessments. NCLB allows for reasonable accommodations on assessments administered to English language learners. Although federal law does not explicitly specify similar requirements regarding the participation of students with disabilities and English language learners in NAEP, the NAEP program has been working very hard to make its sample of students taking the assessments as representative as possible of all students. We are asking you to ensure that the greatest possible number of students with disabilities and English language learners in your school, who are selected to participate, do in fact take the assessments.

Please keep in mind that NAEP does not produce results for individual students or schools, as your state or district tests might. All results are summarized only at the national and state levels (and for a few large urban districts). In other words, the NAEP assessments do not impose consequences for the student or the school, and are instead intended purely to provide a picture of educational performance and progress.

We want to include as many students as possible in the picture NAEP provides for us. For this reason, we ask you to do all you can to help ensure the participation of students who are selected for NAEP whenever possible, including students with disabilities and English language learners. Students taking the NAEP are able to use most of the testing accommodations they usually receive in other tests (e.g., extended time, small group testing). Most students with disabilities and English language learners are indeed able to participate in NAEP with their fellow students.

NAEP is one of the most visible and important indicators of educational performance in this country, and we very much appreciate your support in making NAEP as inclusive as possible.

SD Questionnaire Pages 4 and 5

GENERAL DIRECTIONS FOR COMPLETING THIS QUESTIONNAIRE

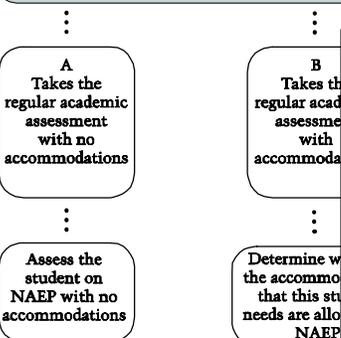

The student named on the front cover of this questionnaire has been selected to participate in the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) and has been identified as a student with disabilities (SD). NAEP's definition of SD includes only:

- students with an Individualized Educational Program (IEP), for reasons other than being gifted or talented; or
- students with 504 Plans.

The decision tree below illustrates the steps in determining how best to include this student in NAEP. By answering the questions in this questionnaire, you will provide the information needed to make this determination.

SD DECISION TREE

How does this student participate in your state academic assessment in the NAEP subject that the student has been selected to take as identified on the front cover?

Please answer the questions on pages 5–8 about this student and return the questionnaire to the person in your school who identified the student.

Thank you very much!
