"Non-returnable" refers to materials the supplier/lending library does not expect to have returned. Examples of non-returnable include photocopies or facsimiles, fiche-to-fiche copies, print copies from microfilm, electronic full-text documents, and gratis print copies of unpublished reports and/or departmental working papers.
${ }^{2}$ Documents delivered "from commercial services" refers to all documents from commercial document delivery services received by the library's users. This includes all transactions the library pays for, even if library staff is not involved in the transaction.
NOTE: The 2012 ALS population included postsecondary institutions that provide all of the following: total library expenditures that exceed $$ 10,000$; an organized collection of printed or other materials, or a combination thereof; a staff trained to provide and interpret such materials as required to meet the informational, cultural, recreational, or educational needs of the clientele; an established schedule in which services of the staff are available to the clientele; and the physical facilities necessary to support such a collection, staff, and schedule. 1"Volumes" includes a single physical unit of any printed, typewritten, handwritten, mimeographed, or processed work, distinguished from other units by a separate binding, encasement, portfolio, or other clear distinction, which has been cataloged, classified, and made ready for use, and which is typically the unit used to charge circulation transactions. Includes print photographs, duplicates and bound volumes of periodicals. For purposes of this questionnaire, unclassified bound serials arranged in alphabetical order are considered classified. Excludes microfilms, maps, nonprint materials, and uncataloged items. Includes Government document volumes that are accessible through the library's catalogs regardless of whether they are separately shelved. "Classified" includes documents arranged by Superintendent of Documents, CODOC, or similar numbers. "Cataloged" includes documents for which records are provided by the library or downloaded from other sources into the library's card or online catalogs.
NOTE: The 2012 ALS population included postsecondary institutions that provide all of the following: total library expenditures that exceed $$ 10,000$; an organized collection of printed or other materials, or a combination thereof; a staff trained to provide and interpret such materials as required to meet the informational, cultural, recreational, or educational needs of the clientele; an established schedule in which services of the staff are available to the clientele; and the physical facilities necessary to support such a collection, staff, and schedule.

"Microform units" includes all photographic reproduction of textual, tabular, or graphic materials reduced in size so that they can be used only with magnification. Examples of microforms are roll microfilm, microcard, microfiche, and ultrafiche.
NOTE: The 2012 ALS population included postsecondary institutions that provide all of the following: total library expenditures that exceed $$ 10,000$; an organized collection of printed or other materials, or a combination thereof; a staff trained to provide and interpret such materials as required to meet the informational, cultural, recreational, or educational needs of the clientele; an established schedule in which services of the staff are available to the clientele; and the physical facilities necessary to support such a collection, staff, and schedule.

${ }^{1}$ Full-time equivalent (FTE) staff of the institution is calculated by dividing the total number of hours for all part-time positions by the number of hours the library defines as a full-time position.
NOTE: The 2012 ALS population included postsecondary institutions that provide all of the following: total library expenditures that exceed $$ 10,000$; an organized collection of printed or other materials, or a combination thereof; a staff trained to provide and interpret such materials as required to meet the informational, cultural, recreational, or educational needs of the clientele; an established schedule in which services of the staff are available to the clientele; and the physical facilities necessary to support such a collection, staff, and schedule. Detail may not sum to totals because of rounding

"Information resources total" includes books, serial backfiles, current serial subscriptions, document delivery/interlibrary loan, preservation, and other expenditures for information resources.
${ }^{2}$ Total "Book, serial backfiles and other materials" does not equal the sum of "Electronic" and "Audiovisual" because other detail expenditure categories are not collected. NOTE: The 2012 ALS population included postsecondary institutions that provide all of the following: total library expenditures that exceed $$ 10,000$; an organized collection of printed or other materials, or a combination thereof; a staff trained to provide and interpret such materials as required to meet the informational, cultural, recreational, or educational needs of the clientele; an established schedule in which services of the staff are available to the clientele; and the physical facilities necessary to support such a collection, staff, and schedule.

"Other operating expenditures" are all other expenditures not already reported, and include furniture and equipment except computer hardware, and any related maintenance costs.
NOTE: The 2012 ALS population included postsecondary institutions that provide all of the following: total library expenditures that exceed $$ 10,000$; an organized collection of printed or other materials, or a combination thereof; a staff trained to provide and interpret such materials as required to meet the informational, cultural, recreational, or educational needs of the clientele; an established schedule in which services of the staff are available to the clientele; and the physical facilities necessary to support such a collection, staff, and schedule.

T"Total circulation" includes general circulation and reserve circulation.
${ }^{2}$ Full-time equivalent (FTE) enrollment of the institution is calculated by adding one-third of part-time enrollment to full-time enrollment.
${ }^{3}$ "General circulation" is the number of items lent from the general collection and includes both initial transactions and renewals.
"Reserve circulation transactions" is the number of items lent from the reserve collection and includes both initial transactions and renewals.
NOTE: The 2012 ALS population included postsecondary institutions that provide all of the following: total library expenditures that exceed $$ 10,000$; an organized collection of printed or other materials, or a combination thereof; a staff trained to provide and interpret such materials as required to meet the informational, cultural, recreational, or educational needs of the clientele; an established schedule in which services of the staff are available to the clientele; and the physical facilities necessary to support such a collection, staff, and schedule.
A percentile is a measure that tells us what percent of the total frequency scored at or below that measure.
A percentile rank is the percentage of scores that fall at or below a given score. Twenty-five percent of institutions fall into each percentile grouping. All institutions in the 25 th percentile were at or below the number given in the table for the 25 th percentile and all institutions in the 50th percentile were above the 50 th percentile number. For example, all institutions within the 25 th percentile had 1.7 or fewer general circulation transactions per FTE student. For each type of circulation, the percentiles were calculated separately. The libraries comprising the 25 th percentile for general circulation are not necessarily the same for the reserve circulation. ${ }^{1}$ Full-time equivalent (FTE) enrollment of the institution is calculated by adding one-third of part-time enrollment to full-time enrollment.
NOTE: The 2012 ALS population included postsecondary institutions that provide all of the following: total library expenditures that exceed $$ 10,000$; an organized collection of printed or other materials, or a combination thereof; a staff trained to provide and interpret such materials as required to meet the informational, cultural, recreational, or educational needs of the clientele; an established schedule in which services of the staff are available to the clientele; and the physical facilities necessary to support such a collection, staff, and schedule.
A percentile is a measure that tells us what percent of the total frequency scored at or below that measure.
A percentile rank is the percentage of scores that fall at or below a given score. Twenty-five percent of institutions fall into each percentile grouping. All institutions in the 25 th percentile were at or below the number given in the table for the lower quartile and all institutions in the 75 th percentile were above the 75 th percentile number. For example, all institutions within the 25 th percentile had 2.9 or fewer total staff per 1,000 FTE students.

${ }^{1}$ Full-time equivalent (FTE) enrollment of the institution is calculated by adding one-third of part-time enrollment to full-time enrollment.
${ }^{2}$ "Information resources" includes books, serial backfiles, current serial subscriptions, document delivery/interlibrary loan, preservation, and other expenditures for information resources.
${ }^{3}$ "Expenditures for current serial subscriptions" is the total reported expenditures for all formats (paper, microform, and electronic serial subscriptions). See form changes in survey questionnaire for details.

For example, all institutions within the lower quartile had total expenditures per FTE student of $$ 138.40$ or less. For each type of expenditures, the percentiles were calculated separately. The libraries comprising the 25 th percentile for expenditures for information resources are not necessarily the same for the expenditures for current serial subscriptions.
