Cost II for academic year tuition reporters

Overview

Cost Overview

The purpose of the Cost (CST) component is to collect information on student charges for Cost of Attendance estimates and to calculate an Average Net Price (ANP) for first-time, full-time undergraduate students to meet requirements of the Higher Education Act of 1965 (HEA), as amended. This component also collects information on tuition and fees for other groups of students.

Much of the data reported on CST appear on College Navigator, which is updated only one time after CST data have been reviewed by NCES. Therefore, any data reporting errors may stay on College Navigator for a full year.

Additionally, the ANP calculation has important implications for what students see about your institution, and also for the College Affordability and Transparency Center lists.

Data Reporting Reminder:

- Report data to accurately reflect the time period corresponding with the IPEDS survey component, even if such reporting is seemingly inconsistent with prior-year reporting.

Changes in reporting:

The following changes were made for the 2024-25 collection:

- This is a new survey component that will open in the Fall to allow Cost of Attendance (COA) data to be updated on College Navigator. The component will reopen in the Winter to collect selected information on financial aid awards to calculate an institutional Average Net Price (ANP), at which time COA data elements can be updated or corrected.
- Added questions to determine and make publicly available the information on whether postsecondary institutions ask for other financial information not on the FAFSA form and whether they collect asset data even when students qualify for having their assets exempted from the federal need analysis as this information required by the FAFSA Simplification Act.

Resources:

If you have questions about completing this survey, please contact the IPEDS Help Desk at 1-877-225-2568.

Cost II for academic year tuition reporters

Overview

The Cost (CST) component is divided into screening questions and three sections. The screening questions and Section 1 (cost of attendance for current academic year) must be completed during the Fall data collection period. Section 2 (selected financial aid data for average net price calculation) and Section 3 (average net price calculations) open in the Winter data collection period. Section 3 is a calculated values only section and includes the average net price calculations based on data reported in Sections 1 and 2.

Purpose of Survey Component

The purpose of the Cost (CST) component is to collect information on student charges for Cost of Attendance estimates and to calculate an Average Net Price (ANP) for first-time, full-time undergraduate students to meet requirements of the Higher Education Act of 1965 (HEA), as amended. This component also collects information on tuition and fees for other groups of students.

Much of the data reported on CST appear on College Navigator, which is updated only one time after CST data have been reviewed by NCES. Therefore, any data reporting errors may stay on College Navigator for a full year.

Additionally, the ANP calculation has important implications for what students see about your institution, and also for the College Affordability and Transparency Center lists.

Top▲

Who Must Report

Institutions that had any students enrolled during the current and/or prior academic year must report. Cost of attendance and average net price data are only required of institutions with full-time, first-time students enrolled during the current and/or prior academic year.

Top▲

Changes in reporting

The following changes were made for the 2024-25 collection:

- This is a new survey component that will open in the Fall to allow Cost of Attendance (COA) data to be updated on College Navigator. The component will reopen in the Winter to collect selected information on financial aid awards to calculate an institutional Average Net Price (ANP), at which time COA data elements can be updated or corrected.
- Added questions to determine and make publicly available the information on whether postsecondary institutions ask for other financial information not on the FAFSA form and whether they collect asset data even when students qualify for having their assets exempted from the federal need analysis as this information required by the FAFSA Simplification Act.

General instructions

What You Will Need

There are multiple data elements required to complete this survey component. Many of these data elements should come from the institution's financial aid office.

- Application fees for applicable student types.
- Cost of attendance information for full-time, first-time students.
- Tuition and fee rates for applicable student types.
- Food and housing charges.
- Student counts for applicable student types.
- Student counts by living arrangement.
- Total aid dollars awarded to these students.

1. Financial aid information about the following student categories:
   - FTFT undergraduate students who paid the lower of in-state/in-district tuition rate and were awarded any grant/scholarship aid from the federal government, state/local government, or the institution
   - FTFT undergraduate students who paid the lower of in-state/in-district tuition rate and were awarded any Title IV federal student aid
2. Living arrangement information for full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students who paid the lower of in-state or in-district tuition rate and were awarded grant or scholarship aid during the reporting period
3. Living arrangement information for full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students who paid the lower of in-state or in-district tuition rate and were awarded Title IV federal student aid during the reporting period
4. Income levels for full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students who paid the lower of in-state or in-district tuition rate and were awarded Title IV federal student aid during the reporting period

About the Data

Five different types of data appear in this component. There are data:

- That institutions provide about tuition, fees, food, and housing
- That institutions provide from their own financial aid records
- That are prior-year data, shown in red, which can be used as a comparison with the current year's data (i.e., the data that are being reported)
- That are preloaded from the IPEDS Fall Enrollment (EF) survey component that your institution completed in the most recent collection
- That are calculated from the other data elements

In the latter two cases, the data provider should check that the data that are preloaded and calculated are consistent with the data in the institution's underlying financial aid records. If the data preloaded or calculated are not consistent with the institution's records, then an error in data entry may have occurred.

Context Boxes

Optional context boxes throughout the component allow institutions to provide more information regarding reported data. Note that the information in these context boxes may be posted on the U.S. Department of Education's College Navigator website. NCES will review entries in these context boxes for applicability and appropriateness before posting them on College Navigator. However, institutions should ensure that entries in these context boxes are free from grammatical and spelling errors and are written so that they can be understood by students and parents.

Interactive Edits

This component contains interactive edits that will check for blank fields, invalid values, or values that fall outside expected ranges. Some error messages will require you to confirm or explain the values that you entered. Some error messages are fatal and will require you to contact the IPEDS Help Desk at (877) 225-2568 or ipedshelp@rti.org for resolution.

Coverage

Reporting Period

The cost of attendance and tuition and fees data are reported for the most current year, as well as 3 prior years. The financial aid data reported for this component should be for the prior academic year as defined by the institution.

Student Cohort

For academic reporters, the student cohort covered by this component includes undergraduate students enrolled for the prior academic year as of October 15 or as of the institution's official fall reporting date.

What to include

The following types of financial aid should be known in this component:

- Title IV aid: Title IV aid includes Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG), Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grant, Federal Work Study (FWS), and the Subsidized and Unsubsidized Direct Loan programs. Report 100% of student FSEOG and FWS award amounts. That is, include the federal and matching share, regardless of the source of the match. Also, FSEOG and FWS award amounts should not exceed program amounts budgeted for the award year. That is, if the institution's packaging policy includes an over-awarding strategy to account for attrition to make sure all funds are expended, exclude these amounts from award amounts reported to IPEDS.
- Federal grants (grants/educational assistance funds): Grants provided by federal agencies such as the U.S. Department of Education, including Title IV federal student aid program grants such as Federal Pell Grants, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (FSEOG), and Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grants. Also include need-based and merit-based educational assistance funds and training vouchers provided from (a) other federal agencies and/or (b) federally- sponsored educational benefits programs.
    - Do not include veterans' education benefits, as defined in section 480(c) of the HEA, as they are no longer treated as Estimated Financial Assistance (EFA) for Federal Student Aid's purposes. For more information, visit https://ifap.ed.gov/electronic-announcements/08-13-2009-general-subject-guidance-federal-veterans-education-benefits.
- Federal Work Study: Money earned by students based on financial need to meet postsecondary education costs who are employed part-time, typically in education related employment or community service activities on- campus or off-campus at the institution, or a private for-profit or nonprofit business, agency, or organization. Earnings include the federal and nonfederal share of wages, benefits, withholdings, and other employment deductions. It includes credit and non-credit employment. Examples of types of employment include, but is not limited to, assistantships, apprenticeships, internships, externships, and cooperative education experiences. While it does not include institutional and state work study programs, the non-federal share includes all state and local funds used to match these programs. See applicable federal, state, local, and institutional program rules for additional information.
- Federal loans to students: Money borrowed from the federal government that must be repaid for which the student is the designated borrower. This category of aid includes all Title IV federal student programs such as Subsidized Direct Loans and Unsubsidized Direct Loans. It also includes Health Professions Student Loans, Loans for Disadvantaged Students, Nursing Student Loans, and Primary Care Loans. Do not include PLUS loans and other federal loans not made directly to the student.
- State/local government grants (grants/scholarships/waivers): Grants that were awarded by your state such as Leveraging Educational Assistance Partnerships (LEAP) (formerly SSIGs), the Special Leveraging Educational Assistance Program (SLEAP), the Grants for Access and Persistence (GAP) Program, and Robert C. Byrd Honors Scholarships. Include merit-based grants or scholarships that were provided by your state or local government. Also include tuition and fee waivers for which your institution was reimbursed by a state or local government agency.
- Institutional grants or scholarships (scholarships/waivers): Grants, scholarships, and fellowships granted and funded by the institution and/or individual departments within the institution and are limited to students attending your institution. Include scholarships targeted to certain individuals (e.g., based on state of residence, major, or participation in athletic activities) for which the institution designates the recipient. Also include institutional tuition and fee waivers for which your institution was not reimbursed by a state or local government agency. This is not intended to include Federal Work Study.
- Private grants or scholarships: Grants or scholarships to students awarded and paid by an outside organization but directed through the institution's financial aid office and/or business office (e.g., Rotary Club Scholarship).

NOTE: In this component, "aid awarded" refers to grant or scholarship aid that was awarded to students. For reporting grant or scholarship aid, institutions should report on aid that was awarded to students. This amount may be different from the amount that was actually disbursed to students. For example, a student may be awarded grant or scholarship aid at the beginning of the academic year but then leave the institution before the entire amount is disbursed. In this case, institutions should report the original amount of grant or scholarship aid that was awarded.

Note also that different types of financial aid should be reported for different groups of students. Please review the instructions and the screens carefully to ensure that you are reporting the correct types of financial aid in the appropriate parts.

Institutions need to report selected financial aid information in this survey component (Section 2) such that the average net price calculations (Section 3) shown on College Navigator and used for the College Affordability and Transparency Center lists are a reflection of what students typically pay.

For total aid amounts, report to the nearest whole dollar and omit cents. For student counts, an unduplicated count should be given within a given aid category (e.g., Federal Pell Grants). However, a student can appear in more than one aid category.

What NOT to include

Do not report student counts or aid amounts for the following:

- Students who were only graduate students at the institution during the reporting period
- Students who were enrolled exclusively in courses not creditable toward a certificate/degree
- Students who were enrolled exclusively in Continuing Education Units (CEUs)
- Students who were exclusively auditing classes

Do not report:

- Federal Work Study amounts into any total aid amounts
- Subsidized and Unsubsidized Direct Loan amounts into any total aid amounts
- ROTC aid, which are excluded from estimated financial assistance, also known as EFA, in any total aid amounts

Detailed Instructions

This section provides line-by-line instructions for each part of the Cost component.

Screening questions

If you responded to questions regarding full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students in the Institutional Characteristics survey, your institution will be required to answer all the questions.

1. Institutionally-controlled housing

Indicate if the institution provides institutionally-controlled housing (either on- or off-campus) and if so, specify the housing capacity.

2. On-campus or institutionally-controlled off-campus housing requirement

Indicate if ALL full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking students are required to live on campus or in institutionally-controlled off-campus housing. If you answer Yes to this question, you will not be asked to report off-campus food and housing in the price of attendance. If you make ANY exceptions to this rule, please answer No so that this does not cause conflicts with the average net price calculation. Misreporting may lead to an inaccurate average net price calculation for your institution.

This question is a screening question and does not appear on College Navigator. Please respond correctly.

3. Tuition based on residence [Applicable to public institutions only]
Indicate if the institution charges different tuition rates for students from in-district, in-state, or out-of-state. If you select yes, indicate which of the different tuition rates listed are charged by your institutions.

4. Food or meal plans
Indicate if the institution offers food or meal plans to students. If the institution offers fixed meal plans, provide the number of meals per week for the maximum plan available. Institutions will be asked to report the food charges or combined food and housing charges on later screens.

5. Application fee
Indicate whether your institution charges and application fee. If you select yes, please indicate which levels have an application fee.

6. Application fee waiver
Indicate if applicants to your institution can have the application fee waived if they demonstrate financial need. If you select yes, please indicate which levels.

7. Promise Program
Indicate if your institution participates in any Promise programs. Promise programs are residency-based scholarship programs for high school graduates at selected postsecondary institutions. Programs may have additional requirements beyond residency and can be either a first-dollar or last-dollar benefit.

8. Alternative tuition plans
Indicate if your institution offers any alternative tuition plans. Use the context box on the bottom of the page to provide details about tuition plans for College Navigator. Please provide only factual information, context boxes are reviewed and inappropriate information (such as marketing information) will be removed.

9. Asset information
Indicate whether for the purpose of awarding institutional financial aid your institution requires asset information from students who qualify for the exemption from asset reporting on the FAFSA form.

10. Additional financial information
Indicate whether for the purpose of awarding institutional financial aid your institution requires additional financial information separate from the FAFSA form. If yes, include a website link to where your institution's website explains what additional financial information is required.

Section 1 – Student Charges

Part A – Application fees

[Only applicable to institutions that charge application fees]

Note, Part A will only load for institutions that indicated that they charge an application fee in the screening questions.

For each applicable student level, indicate the amount for the application fee. An application fee is the amount of money that an institution charges for processing a student's application for admittance to the institution. This amount is not creditable toward tuition or required fees, nor is it refundable if the student is not admitted to the institution. If different amounts are charged for a level, please provide the most frequently charged amount and you can provide more information for students in the context box.

Part B – Cost of attendance for full-time, first-time undergraduate students

[In-district, In-state, and Out-of-State breakdowns applicable to institutions reporting varying tuition only] [Applicable to academic year reporting institutions only]

This question requires working with your student financial aid office.

Institutions with standard academic terms (semesters, quarters, trimesters, or 4-1-4 or hybrid institutions) should provide cost information for in-district, in-state, and out-of-state students for the FULL ACADEMIC YEAR in the columns indicated. The numbers reported for tuition, fees, books and supplies, food and housing, and other expenses must match the amounts used by your financial aid office for determining eligibility for student financial assistance. You will not be able to lock your submission without these data.

Report BOTH tuition and fees, separately. Please report accurately as these numbers are used in the calculation of net price. Net price appears to the public in College Navigator, including the College Affordability and Transparency Center, as mandated in accordance with Sec. 111 of the Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2008 (HEOA).

Indicate whether the tuition and/or fees reported are covered by a tuition guarantee plan. If they are, but it is not a flat rate, please provide the guaranteed maximum rate of increase.

Food and Housing:

- If your institution offers housing but does not offer food or meal plan, refer to your institution's cost of attendance budgets from your financial aid office to report an estimate of how much students would spend on food.
- If your institution offers food or meal plan but does not offer housing, refer to your institution's cost of attendance budgets from your financial aid office to report an estimate of how much students would spend on housing.

Part C - Tuition and Required Fees by Level (Undergraduate and Graduate [not including Doctor's-Professional practice])

[in-district, in-state, and out-of-state breakdowns only applicable to institutions that indicated that the tuition varies][Levels only applicable to institutions that have each level]

Undergraduate students include:

- Students who have not attained a bachelor's degree;
- Students in bachelor's degree programs that require at least 4 years but fewer than 6 years of college work; or
- Students in occupational or general study programs requiring 1, 2, or 3 years of college work that are designed to prepare students for immediate employment or to provide general education rather than to serve as the first 1, 2, or 3 years of a bachelor's degree program.

Graduate students include

- student who holds a bachelor's degree or equivalent and is taking courses at the post-baccalaureate level. These students may or may not be enrolled in graduate programs.
- Do not include doctor's-professional practice tuition. This will be collected separately.

Tuition and required fees

Note that for undergraduate students, this tuition value differs from cost of attendance as it is the average tuition and fees for ALL undergraduate students and all levels (1st year, 2nd year, etc.). It is possible that this number will be different from the cost of attendance that you will report if you have first-time, full-time students.

Since tuition and required fees may be different for varying groups of full-time students in each level at an institution, adhere to the following rules regarding reporting:

- Report the average tuition and required fees for the full academic year charged to in-district, in-state, and out-of-state students. If you selected 'yes' for the screening question that you charge different tuitions for in-district, in-state, and out-of-state, provide amounts in all columns even if two are the same. If they are all the same, go back to the screening question that asks about this and indicate that you do not charge different tuitions.
- If the institution charges tuition on a per-credit-hour basis, estimate average tuition based on the average full-time credit-hour load for an entire academic year.
- When reporting required fees, include all fixed sum charges that are REQUIRED of a majority of students.
- Do not include any charges that are clearly optional.

Per-credit-hour charges for part-time undergraduate students

Enter the average dollar amount your institution charges to part-time students per credit hour of instruction. Do not include fees.

Part D – Tuition and Required Fees by Level (Selected Doctor's-Professional Practice)

[Applicable to institutions with Doctor's – professional practice programs only] [in-district, in-state, and out-of-state breakdowns only applicable to institutions that indicated that the tuition varies]

Report the average tuition and fees (if applicable, for both in- and out-of-state) for students in the selected professional practice programs.

Part E - Food and Housing

[Applicable to degree-granting institutions with undergraduate programs that offer food and housing only]

Institutions that offer institutionally controlled housing (either on- or off- campus) will be required to answer the questions in this section.

Report the typical housing charge for the full academic year (as indicated on screen) for a full-time student sharing a room with one other student.
Report the food or meal plan charge based on the maximum meal plan available for the full academic year (as indicated on screen) to a full-time student.
Report a combined food and housing charge only if food and housing charges cannot be separated.

Section 2 – Financial Aid Data for Average Net Price Calculations

Part A - Establish Your Student Counts

Note that the data you report on this screen will be carried to other parts of the Cost survey component.

Students who only receive HEERF grants should not be included on line 03 or line 04.

Instructions:

In the fields provided, report the student counts for each student category below. Some values are preloaded from your institution's IPEDS Fall Enrollment (EF) component but may be modified if necessary. If you have questions about the value that has been preloaded in this field, please contact your institution's IPEDS Keyholder.

Title IV federal student aid includes the following: • Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG), Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grant • Federal Work Study (FWS) • Subsidized and Unsubsidized Direct Loan programs Note: Include FWS and Subsidized and Unsubsidized Direct Loan recipients in student counts but do not include FWS and Subsidized and Unsubsidized Direct Loan award amounts in Part C. Report 100% of student FSEOG award amounts. That is, include the federal and matching share, regardless of the source of the match. Also, FSEOG award amounts should not exceed program amounts budgeted for the award year. That is, if the institution's packaging policy includes an over-awarding strategy to account for attrition to make sure all funds are expended, exclude unfunded budgeted amounts from award amounts reported to IPEDS.

Part B - Enter Financial Aid About full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students

[Only applicable to institutions with varied tuition]

This part collects information about the number of full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students enrolled in the prior fall paying in-district, in-state, and out-of-state tuition rates. If your institution does not offer different rates, report all students as paying in-state tuition rates.

The total student count for full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students is preloaded at the top of the screen. Reported student counts in each tuition category cannot be greater than this preloaded number.

Part C – Student counts and aid amounts for FTFT DGCS undergraduate students awarded grant or scholarship aid

[Instruction "lower of in-state or in-district" only applicable to institutions with varied tuition]

This part collects information about the number of full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students enrolled in the prior fall paying different tuition rates. The information is used to estimate the average net price for these students in Section 3.

Emergency grants funded under the CARES, CRRSA, and ARP Acts should NOT be included for these students under "Report the total amount of grant or scholarship aid from the federal government, state/local government, or the institution awarded to these students," as inclusion of these grants would skew average net price calculations.

Report for all full-time, first-time, degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students enrolled in the prior fall for the prior academic year as defined by the institution paying the lower of in-state or in-district tuition rate awarded grant or scholarship aid from the following sources: the federal government, state/local government, or the institution.

- Do not include students awarded only grant or scholarship aid from private or other sources, awarded only non-grant aid, or awarded HEERF grants only.

In this part, you will be asked to report living arrangement information for full-time, first-time, degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students enrolled in the prior fall for the prior academic year as defined by the institution who paid the lower of in-state or in-district tuition rate and were awarded grant or scholarship aid from the following sources: the federal government, state/local government, or the institution. Living arrangement is no longer included on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Institutions can still ask about the students about their living arrangements in other ways, such as adding a question to an existing application or creating a form or application to get the answer of the student's living arrangements. The institution cannot, however, require any additional forms in order for the student to receive aid.

Institutions should use the most recently available information regarding student living arrangements. While there is an unknown option, if the institution knows the living arrangement for the student, then the student should be reported in the appropriate category.

Include the following types of aid awarded any time during the prior academic year:

- Grant or scholarship aid from the federal government, state/local government, and the institution
- Do not include grant or scholarship aid from private or other sources, PLUS loans or loans made to anyone other than the student, OR Federal Work Study amounts.

Instructions:

In the fields provided, report the number of full-time, first-time, degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students enrolled in the prior fall for the prior academic year as defined by the institution who paid the lower of in-state or in-district tuition rate and were awarded grant or scholarship aid from the following sources: the federal government, state/local government, or the institution with each type of living arrangement and the total amount of grant or scholarship aid from the federal government, state/local government, or the institution awarded to these students. Prior year values can be edited if needed.

Line	Description

02.	On-campus. Number of these students who lived on-campus. (Reported value)
03.	Off-campus (with family). Number of these students who lived off-campus with their parents or guardians. (Reported value)

Part D – Student counts and aid amounts for FTFT DGCS undergraduate students awarded any Title IV federal student aid

[Instruction "lower of in-state or in-district" only applicable to institutions with varied tuition]

This part collects information used to estimate the average net price for these students in Section 3.

Emergency grants funded under the CARES, CRRSA, and ARP Acts should NOT be included for full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students awarded any Title IV federal student aid under "grant or scholarship aid from the following sources: the federal government, state/local government, or the institution," as inclusion of these grants would skew average net price calculations.

Report for all full-time, first-time, degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students enrolled in the prior fall who paid the lower of in-state or in-district tuition rate and were awarded any Title IV federal student aid.

- Do not include students awarded only grant or scholarship aid from private or other sources, awarded only non-grant aid, or awarded HEERF grants only.

Notes: In this part, you will be asked to report living arrangement information for full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students awarded any Title IV federal student aid.

In this part, you will be asked to report living arrangement information for full-time, first-time, degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students enrolled in the prior fall for the prior academic year as defined by the institution who paid the lower of in-state or in-district tuition rate and were awarded any Title IV federal student aid. Living arrangement is no longer included on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Institutions can still ask about the students about their living arrangements in other ways, such as adding a question to an existing application or creating a form or application to get the answer of the student's living arrangements. The institution cannot, however, require any additional forms in order for the student to receive aid.

Institutions should use the most recently available information regarding student living arrangements. While there is an unknown option, if the institution knows the living arrangement for the student, then the student should be reported in the appropriate category.

In this part, you will also be asked to report the number of students and the total amount of grant or scholarship aid they were awarded by income level. To determine the income level of the student, use the income that was used by the institution's financial aid office to determine the student's Student Aid Index (SAI). For dependent students this will include the parents' adjusted gross income and the student's adjusted gross income. For independent students this will include the student's adjusted gross income.

Report all students awarded Title IV federal student aid. Title IV federal student aid includes the following:

- Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG), Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grant
- Federal Work Study (FWS)
- Subsidized and Unsubsidized Direct Loan programs

Note: Include FWS and Subsidized and Unsubsidized Direct Loan recipients in student counts but do not include FWS and Subsidized and Unsubsidized Direct Loan award amounts. Report 100% of student FSEOG award amounts. That is, include the federal and matching share, regardless of the source of the match. Also, FSEOG award amounts should not exceed program amounts budgeted for the award year. That is, if the institution's packaging policy includes an over-awarding strategy to account for attrition to make sure all funds are expended, exclude unfunded budgeted amounts from award amounts reported to IPEDS.

Instructions:

In the fields provided, report the number of full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students awarded any Title IV federal student aid with each type of living arrangement.

Section 3 – Average Net Price Calculations

Part A – Average net Price Calculation for full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students paying the lower of in-state or in-district tuition rate awarded grant or scholarship aid from the federal government, state/local government, or the institution

[Instruction "lower of in-state or in-district" only applicable to institutions with varied tuition]

This part summarizes the information used to estimate the average net price for full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students awarded grant or scholarship aid from the federal government, state/local government, or the institution.

For institutions with different tuition rates, include only those students who paid the lower of in-state or in-district tuition rate.

As required by the HEA, as amended (2008), the average net price for these students will be posted on College Navigator. In addition, the average net price calculated for this group will be used in the U.S. Department of Education's College Affordability and Transparency Center lists.

The data elements used to calculate the institutional average net price include the average total cost of attendance and the average grant or scholarship aid awarded to full-time, first-time students. The total cost of attendance is the sum of tuition and required fees (Line 01), books and supplies (Line 02), and the weighted average by living arrangement for food and housing, and other expenses (Line 10). Information about cost of attendance is carried forward from Section 1 (prior year reporting). If you did not enter this information and have questions about the values entered here, contact your institution's IPEDS Keyholder.

Glossary

Term	Definition
Allowable costs	Except in the case of correspondence and incarcerated students, allowable costs for the cost of attendance typically include: 1. Tuition and fees; 2. Food and housing; 3. Books, materials, supplies, and equipment, which may include the rental or purchase of a personal computer; 4. Transportation, which may include, but is not limited to, vehicle maintenance and/or travel costs between campus, residences, and the student's place of work; and 5. Miscellaneous expenses, which may include other costs and allowances under the law and/or as determined by the institution for a student attending at least half-time such as an allowance for: • Dependent care; • Study abroad expenses; • Disability-related expenses; • Cooperative education costs; • Professional licensure, certification, or first professional credential costs; and • Federal student loan fees. Note: Other restrictions and limitations may apply to the cost components and allowances, especially for less-than-full-time, correspondence, and incarcerated students.
Application fee	That amount of money that an institution charges for processing a student's application for admittance to the institution. This amount is not creditable toward tuition or required fees, nor is it refundable if the student is not admitted to the institution.
Average cost of attendance	The average of the actual or average allowable costs as defined by the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended, used to determine a student's eligibility for Title IV and other financial aid programs. The average may be based on all students or different categories of students such as undergraduates or graduates. Other student categories may include enrollment status, academic program, or residency. For IPEDS reporting purposes, cost of attendance is only reported for full-time, first-time students.
Average Net price (ANP)	The Higher Education Act, as amended (2008), defines institutional net price as "the average yearly price actually charged to first-time, full-time undergraduate students receiving student aid at an institution of higher education after deducting such aid." In IPEDS, average institutional net price is generated by subtracting the average amount of federal, state/local government, or institutional grant and scholarship aid from the total cost of attendance. Total cost of attendance is the sum of published tuition and required fees (lower of in-district or in-state for public institutions), books and supplies, and the weighted average for food and housing and other expenses.
Books and supplies	The average cost of books, course materials, supplies, and equipment for a typical student for an entire academic year (or program). Does not include unusual costs for special groups of students (e.g., engineering or art majors), unless they constitute the majority of students at an institution.

Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP)	A taxonomic coding scheme for secondary and postsecondary instructional programs. It is intended to facilitate the organization, collection, and reporting of program data using classifications that capture the majority of reportable data. The CIP is the accepted federal government statistical standard on instructional program classifications and is used in a variety of education information surveys and databases.

Costs reported to IPEDS by the institution are those amounts used by the financial aid office to determine a student's financial need for the academic year, which is typically nine months.
Credit hour	A unit of measure representing the equivalent of an hour (50 minutes) of instruction per week over the entire term. It is applied toward the total number of credit hours needed for completing the requirements of a degree, diploma, certificate, or other recognized postsecondary credential.

This includes students who: - received any type of federal financial aid, regardless of what courses they took at any time; - received any state or locally based financial aid with an eligibility requirement that the student be enrolled in a degree, certificate, or transfer-seeking program; or - obtained a student visa to study at a U.S. postsecondary institution High school students also enrolled in postsecondary courses for credit are not considered degree/certificate-seeking.

Doctor's degree-professional practice	A doctor's degree that is conferred upon completion of a program providing the knowledge and skills for the recognition, credential, or license required for professional practice. The degree is awarded after a period of study such that the total time to the degree, including both pre-professional and professional preparation, equals at least six full-time equivalent academic years. Some of these degrees were formerly classified as first-professional and may include: Chiropractic (D.C. or D.C.M.); Dentistry (D.D.S. or D.M.D.); Law (J.D.); Medicine (M.D.); Optometry (O.D.); Osteopathic Medicine (D.O); Pharmacy (Pharm.D.); Podiatry (D.P.M., Pod.D., D.P.); or, Veterinary Medicine (D.V.M.), and others, as designated by the awarding institution.

All postsecondary institutions that have a Program Participation Agreement with the Office of Postsecondary Education (OPE), U.S. Department of Education (throughout IPEDS referred to as "Title IV") are required to report data using a web-based data collection system. IPEDS currently consists of the following components: Institutional Characteristics (IC); 12-month Enrollment (E12);Completions (C); Admissions (ADM); Student Financial Aid (SFA); Human Resources (HR) composed of Employees by Assigned Position, Fall Staff, and Salaries; Fall Enrollment (EF); Graduation Rates (GR); Outcome Measures (OM); Finance (F); and Academic Libraries (AL).
Net price	The Higher Education Act, as amended (2008), defines institutional net price as "the average yearly price actually charged to first-time, full-time undergraduate students receiving student aid at an institution of higher education after deducting such aid." In IPEDS, average institutional net price is generated by subtracting the average amount of federal, state/local government, or institutional grant and scholarship aid from the total cost of attendance. Total cost of attendance is the sum of published tuition and required fees (lower of in-district or in-state for public institutions), books and supplies, and the weighted average for food and housing and other expenses.

General

1) What is the purpose of the Cost survey?

The purpose of the Cost (CST) component is to collect information on student charges for Cost of Attendance estimates and to calculate an Average Net Price (ANP) for first-time, full-time undergraduate students to meet requirements of the Higher Education Act of 1965 (HEA), as amended. This component also collects information on tuition and fees for other groups of students.

Much of the data reported on CST appear on College Navigator, which is updated only one time after CST data have been reviewed by NCES. Therefore, any data reporting errors may stay on College Navigator for a full year.

Additionally, the ANP calculation has important implications for what students see about your institution, and also for the College Affordability and Transparency Center lists.

2) What is the reporting period covered by CST for the 2024-25 collection year?

For the 2024-25 data collection, in Section 1 institutions should report Cost of Attendance (COA), tuition and fees, and food and housing data for academic year 2024-25, and can edit prior COA data for 2023-24, 2022-23, and 2021-22. award or disbursement data for students enrolled during academic year 2022-23.

In Section 2 institutions should report student counts and aid amounts for academic year 2023-24 (prior years are editable except in Part A). Aid amounts should be reported for 2023-24, and are editable for 2022-23 and 2021-22.

3) Should my institution, which is participating as a U.S. Department of Education experimental site, include experimental site participants in IPEDS Cost (CST) survey component student counts and cost of attendance amounts?

No. Exclude experimental site participants from cost of attendance student counts and amounts reported on the CST component.

Top ▲

4) Our institution offers several meal plans. Which plan should I report?

You should report the meal plan that offers the maximum number of meals per week. If your institution offers an unlimited number of meals, enter 99.

Top ▲

5) Can I revise my institutions cost of attendance (COA) data in the Winter?

Yes, the COA years can be changed while the survey is open in the Winter. Changes cannot be made in the prior year revision system.

Top ▲

6) What is the purpose of the questions asking about schools requiring asset data and other financial information not on the FAFSA form for awarding their own aid?

The FAFSA Simplification Act requires the Department of Education to determine and make publicly available which postsecondary institutions ask for other financial information not on the FAFSA form and which collect asset data even when students qualify for having their assets exempted from the federal need analysis. Many schools have separate forms or applications on which they ask for this extra information, but regardless of how they collect it, if they do so they should indicate "Yes" to these questions as appropriate and provide a URL for a page on their website where users can get more information.

Top ▲

7) What is the asset information that students are required to provide that is referred to in the institutional financial aid question?

This refers to the net value of assets that students and other contributors to the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA©) are typically required to report when they fill out that form. Assets include the total amount of cash, checking and savings accounts, cryptocurrency, as well as time deposits, money market funds, investments, trusts, stocks, bonds, derivatives, securities, mutual funds, tax shelters, qualified education benefits, the annual amount of child support received; and the net value of real estate, vacation homes, income producing property, and business and farm assets. However, they can also include other assets that postsecondary schools ask for to determine how much institutional aid they award to students. An example of this is the net value of the family's home, which is explicitly excluded from the FAFSA form but which many schools require when determining their own aid.

Cost of Attendance

1) How do I know what amounts to report for food and housing and other expenses for institutionally-controlled housing both on and off campus?

Report the food and housing amounts used by your financial aid office for determining student budgets. The other expenses are the amount of money estimated by the financial aid office needed by a student to cover expenses such as laundry, transportation, entertainment, and furnishings. Do not include tuition, required fees, books, course materials, supplies, or equipment required for a program of study with other expenses.

Top ▲

2) How do I know what amounts to report for food and housing and other expenses for off campus?

You should enter the amount for a typical full-time student living off campus with family or not with family used by the financial aid office to determine the student budget.

Top ▲

3) Do I have to report off campus living expenses?

Yes, if your institution does not require all of full-time, first-time students to live on campus (or makes ANY exceptions to this policy).

Top ▲

4) What costs should be included in books and supplies?

Books and supplies typically include books, course materials, supplies, and equipment required of all students in the same course of study. It may include the documented rental or cost of a computer as determined by the institution. See the IPEDS Glossary for additional information. Please work with the financial aid office to make sure costs are assigned to the correct period for IPEDS reporting purposes.

Top ▲

5) What are living expenses?

Living expenses typically include food and housing costs for students attending at least half time regardless of the student's living arrangements. There are exceptions to this rule. Please work with the financial aid office to report these data items to IPEDS. Note: Food and housing are the same as room and board.

Top ▲

6) What are "other expenses"?

This is the amount of money, estimated by the financial aid office, that is needed by a student to cover expenses such as laundry, transportation, entertainment, and furnishings.

7) What Cost data are included on the College Navigator website?

The Cost information that is made available on College Navigator includes tuition and required fees, food and housing charges, books and supplies, and other expenses. The best way to see what information is available about your institution is to look up your institution on College Navigator.

8) If my institution offers food or housing, but not both, how should I report this on the Cost of Attendance page?

In this case, the “food and housing” value must include both the known value and an estimate for the unknown value. Inclusion of both meal cost and housing cost is necessary to generate a total cost of attendance, which is subsequently needed for Net Price calculations. For example, if the institution offers meals but no housing, in the “on-campus food and housing” field they would need to enter a total that includes the cost of the meal plan plus an estimate of housing (such as a housing cost similar to that of off-campus housing).

Student Charges

1) For academic year tuition reporters, what is the difference between the undergraduate tuition and fees charges in Section 1, Part B, and the tuition and fees charges in Section 1, Part C?

The tuition and fees reported in Part B are the average amounts charged to all full-time, first-time undergraduate students only; the tuition and fees in Part C represent the average amounts charged to all full- and part-time undergraduate students, as applicable, not just full-time, first-time undergraduate students. The data in Part B should be provided by your financial aid office as these are the amounts used to determine students’ cost of attendance

2) How do I calculate or determine “average tuition”?

If your institution charges tuition on a per-credit-hour basis, then you should estimate average tuition based on the average full-time credit hour load for an entire academic year. If you have different charges for different programs at the undergraduate or graduate levels, calculate the “average” tuition using the amount that a typical student would expect to pay. BE SURE TO REPORT TUITION FOR THE ENTIRE ACADEMIC YEAR!

Financial Aid

1) Should veterans’ education benefits be reported?

Veterans’ education benefits should not be reported as financial aid in Cost.

- The Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2008 (HEOA) removed veterans’ education benefits from “estimated financial assistance,” effective July 1, 2010. A later technical corrections bill (H.R. 1777) updated the list of programs that meet the definition of "veterans' education benefits" in section 480(c) of the Higher Education Act (HEA) and moved the effective date of the exclusion to July 1, 2009 (beginning with the 2009-10 award year).
- However, the institutional aid from Yellow Ribbon program should be reported under institutional aid. See how to report the Yellow Ribbon aid in FAQ.
- For more information about the Department's Guidance on Federal Veterans’ Education Benefits for Purposes of the Title IV Student Assistance Programs, please visit https://ifap.ed.gov/electronic-announcements/08-13-2009-general-subject-guidance-federal-veterans-education-benefits.

2) What types of financial aid should be reported in the Cost component?

The following types of financial aid should be reported in the Cost component:

- Title IV aid: Title IV aid includes Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG), Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grant, Federal Work Study (FWS), and the Subsidized and Unsubsidized Direct Loan programs. Report 100% of student FSEOG and FWS award amounts. That is, include the federal and matching share, regardless of the source of the match. Also, FSEOG and FWS award amounts should not exceed program amounts budgeted for the award year. That is, if the institution’s packaging policy includes an over-awarding strategy to account for attrition to make sure all funds are expended, exclude these amounts from award amounts reported to IPEDS.
- State/local government grants (grants/scholarships/waivers): Grants that were awarded by your state such as Leveraging Educational Assistance Partnerships (LEAP) (formerly SSIGs), the Special Leveraging Educational Assistance Program (SLEAP), the Grants for Access and Persistence (GAP) Program, and Robert C. Byrd Honors Scholarships. Include merit-based grants or scholarships that were provided by your state or local government. Also include tuition and fee waivers for which your institution was reimbursed by a state or local government agency.
- Institutional grants or scholarships (scholarships/waivers): Grants, scholarships, and fellowships granted and funded by the institution and/or individual departments within the institution and are limited to students attending your institution. Include scholarships targeted to certain individuals (e.g., based on state of residence, major, or participation in athletic activities) for which the institution designates the recipient. Also include institutional tuition and fee waivers for which your institution was not reimbursed by a state or local government agency. This is not intended to include Federal Work Study.

3) What is the time period for which I should report financial aid amounts?

Institutions should report aid that was awarded any time during the academic year.

For academic reporters, the academic year is the period of time generally extending from September to June, usually equated to two semesters or trimesters, three quarters, or the period covered by a 4-1-4 calendar system.

For program reporters, the academic year is defined by the institution, so long as it falls between July 1 and June 30.

4) What does "aid awarded" mean?

Institutions should report on grant or scholarship aid that has been awarded to students. This may be different from aid that was actually disbursed to students. For example, a student may be awarded grant or scholarship aid at the beginning of the academic year but then leave the institution before the entire amount is disbursed. In this case, you would report the original amount of grant or scholarship aid that was awarded, even though the entire amount was not actually disbursed to the student.

5) If a student is awarded more than one type of aid, do I count them twice?

Yes, students should be included in each relevant category of aid that they are awarded. If a student is awarded both Title IV student aid and institutional grant aid, they should be counted under both types of aid in relevant Cost sections.

6) Where can I get living arrangement information for students?

Living arrangement is no longer included on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Institutions can still ask about the students about their living arrangements in other ways, such as adding a question to an existing application or creating a form or application to get the answer of the student's living arrangements. The institution cannot, however, require any additional forms in order for the student to receive aid.

Institutions should use the most recently available information regarding student living arrangements. While there is an unknown option, if the institution knows the living arrangement for the student, then the student should be reported in the appropriate category.

7) How do I get information about students' income categories?

To assign the income category of the student, use the income that was used by your financial aid office to determine the student's Student Aid Index (SAI). For dependent students this will include the parents' adjusted gross income and the student's adjusted gross income. For independent students this will include the student's adjusted gross income.

If your institution takes part in campus-based aid programs like the Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants, Federal Work Study, and Perkins Loans, then it might be easiest to tell your financial aid office that students should be put in income categories as they are done on FISAP (Fiscal Operations Report and Application to Participate). Institutions with campus-based aid programs must report annually to the Department of Education using the FISAP. Part of the FISAP includes income-related information. Even if your institution does not file FISAP, the instructions from it may be helpful (fields 26-39):

- Use the FISAP Total Income (FTI), one of the intermediate computed values on the Student Aid Record (SAR) or ISIR (Institutional Student Information Record), to determine the proper cell for each student. For dependent students, FTI is the sum of Total Income (TI) and Student's Total Income (STI). For independent students, the FTI will equal the TI. Remember, extract this information only from the SARs/ISIRs of students who actually enrolled in your school.
- You might need to correct or adjust a student's income information and recalculate the SAI. If so, you must use that corrected or adjusted information when determining the proper income cell for a student. In such a case, to determine the income cell for a dependent student, you must use the student's and parents' base year incomes, as reported on the SAR/ISIR.

8) The institution awards grants funded by an affiliated foundation. How should these grants be reported?

If the foundation's mission is to benefit the institution, then: (1) those portions of the foundation-funded grants where the institution designates the recipient should be reported as institutional grants; and (2) those portions of the foundation-funded grants where the foundation designates the recipient should be reported as private grants. All grants funded by foundations with missions other than to benefit the institution should be reported as private grants.

9) Should Federal Pell Grant and campus-based aid administrative cost allowance (ACA) amounts be included in financial aid award amounts reported on the Cost component?

Do not report Federal Pell Grant or Title IV Campus-Based Aid Administrative Cost Allowance amounts to IPEDS. These amounts are reported as revenues on the Finance Survey. However, report campus-based aid funds (e.g., Federal Supplemental Education Opportunity Grant or FSEOG).

Top ▲

10) Should Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grant, or IASG funded under the Children of Fallen Heroes Scholarship Act be reported on the Cost component?

Yes, IASG should be reported to IPEDS as federal grants, not scholarships. Even though the grants are awarded, in part, based on Federal Pell Grant methodology, the U.S. Department of Education does not consider these amounts to be Federal Pell Grants. As such, IASG awards should be excluded from Federal Pell Grant student counts and award amounts reported to IPEDS.
