I. About This Sample Questions Booklet

On behalf of the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP), I want to thank you for your participation in this essential measure of student achievement in the United States. NAEP tells us what students in our country know and can do. In the coming year, fourth-, eighth-, and twelfth-graders will participate in NAEP. Twelfth-graders in 2011 will be assessed in economics as a pilot study. Assessments require about 90 minutes of a student’s time, and each student answers questions in only one subject. The test booklet contains 50 minutes of test questions and a brief student questionnaire.

NAEP is voluntary and individual student scores are not reported. Answers to all student questions are confidential, and student names are removed from all assessment materials before the materials leave the school. Results of assessments are reported as The Nation’s Report Card, widely discussed in the press, and are used by policymakers, educators, and researchers to make decisions about education policy and funding; because the 2011 economics assessment is a pilot study only, results will not be reported. A pilot test is a pretest of items to obtain information regarding clarity, difficulty levels, timing, feasibility, and special administrative situations. The operational economics assessment will be administered in 2012.

The student informational questionnaire provides educators and policymakers with contextual information for the assessment, as well as information about factors that may be related to students’ learning. In addition, this booklet includes the student subject-specific questionnaire as well as sample questions for economics in order to promote understanding of the assessment.

If you have any questions or comments regarding NAEP or would like to view previous report cards, please visit the NAEP website at http://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard. Also available through the website is the NAEP Questions Tool (http://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard/itmrlsx) which allows you to review additional sample questions with sample answers.

NAEP is administered by the National Center for Education Statistics, within the U.S. Department of Education’s Institute of Education Sciences. Policy for the assessment, including its content and standards, is set by the independent, bipartisan National Assessment Governing Board (http://www.nagb.org).
II. The Economics Assessment

Grade 12

The NAEP economics assessment includes items classified across three interrelated components: economics content knowledge areas, cognitive categories, and contextual settings. The three economics content knowledge areas and the respective amount of assessment time specified for each content area appear in the table below.

| NAEP Economics Framework Distribution of Question Pool Across Economics Content Area |
|---------------------------------|------------------|
| Grade 12                        |                  |
| The Market Economy              | 45%              |
| The National Economy            | 40%              |
| The International Economy       | 15%              |

The three cognitive categories describe the primary cognitive demands assessment items may make on students participating in the NAEP assessment. The NAEP framework calls for students to spend approximately 33 percent of their assessment time on items from each category. The three cognitive categories for economics items are the following:

- Knowing
- Applying
- Reasoning

The NAEP economics framework calls for economics items to be written in a variety of contextual settings appropriate to real-world situations and to the variety of ways in which students learn economic concepts. The following ranges of assessment time are specified by the framework for each of the contexts:

- Individual and Household (20 to 30%)
- Business (20 to 30%)
- Public (20 to 30%)
- Other Contexts (0 to 10%)
- Context-Free (0 to 10%)
- Multiple Contexts (0 to 10%)

The assessment consists of multiple-choice, short constructed-response, and extended constructed-response questions. The constructed-response questions make up approximately 40 percent of the assessment time. For more information regarding the economics assessment framework please visit http://www.nagb.org/publications/frameworks.htm.
Economics Booklet Directions

DIRECTIONS

In each of the next two sections, you will have 25 minutes to answer a series of questions about economics. You should think carefully about your answers, and you should use the entire 25 minutes to complete each section.

You will be asked to respond to several different types of questions. Some of the questions will require you to choose the best answer and fill in the oval for that answer in your booklet.

For other questions, you will be asked to write short answers on the blank lines provided in your booklet. Here is an example of a question that requires you to provide a short answer.

Example 1

A consumer wants to buy a television set. She is deciding between a standard model with a 19” screen or a more expensive deluxe model with a bigger screen and a built-in DVD player. How can she use an analysis of costs and benefits to help her choose?

The consumer should determine how much change in benefit will be realized by buying the deluxe television as compared to the standard one and whether the additional features (marginal benefits) are worth more to the consumer than the additional (marginal) costs of the deluxe model.
Also, you will be asked to answer other questions by writing longer, more detailed responses. For example, here is a question that requires you to provide a longer answer.

Example 2

The government of Country A does not subsidize haircuts for its citizens, but it does subsidize public education. From an economic standpoint, explain why this is a reasonable position for the government.

People will purchase a good or service if the benefit they receive is greater than the cost they pay. Haircuts ordinarily benefit only those who purchase them. Education, on the other hand, helps not only those becoming educated but also other members of society. For example, many members of society benefit from such things as new inventions and medical services provided by educated people.

When you are asked to write your response be sure that your handwriting is clear. Think carefully about each question and make your answers as complete as possible, using as many lines as you need.

If you finish before time is called, be sure to read your work again and change anything that you think will make your answers better.
Sample Economics Questions

Grade 12

1. James borrows $10,000 from the bank. By the time the loan is repaid, James has paid the bank $10,400. What does the additional $400 represent?
   - Inflation rate
   - Purchasing power of money
   - Interest
   - Investment

2. Luisa has decided to give up her full-time job to go back to school. Identify one potential economic risk and one potential economic benefit that Luisa might have considered in making her decision.
Given the conditions presented in the headline above, what is likely to happen to spending in the economy? Explain your answer.

What is the relationship between spending and output in this situation?

What is likely to happen to real gross domestic product as a result of the relationship between spending and output?
4. Which of the following actions is an example of an improvement in human capital?

- Carlos hires three workers for his business.
- Frank’s Furniture trains employees to use computers.
- Tasha applies for a job as an engineer.
- The city of Upland builds a new nursing home.

5. Because Country A has no domestic sources of wood, it imports all its wood from wood-producing countries. If the price of wood in wood-producing countries rises substantially, which of the following is most likely to occur?

- Country A will import more wood to meet rising demand.
- Country A will impose a tariff on wood imports.
- Housing prices in Country A will increase as wood imports become more expensive.
- Profits in other wood-producing countries will increase because of increased exports to Country A.
Questions 6-7 refer to the following supply and demand graph.

THE MARKET FOR CHOCOLATE

6. Suppose that the government set the price of chocolate at $6 per pound. Which of the following statements best describes an effect of this price control?

- There would be a surplus of 40 pounds of chocolate.
- Less chocolate would be demanded at $4 than at $6.
- Producers of chocolate would want the price set at $4.
- There would be a shortage of 20 pounds of chocolate.

7. If the government removes the price control of $6, what will be the price and quantity sold of chocolate?

1. How often do you watch movies on TV? □ □ □ □

You should have filled in the oval below the answer that best tells how often you watch movies on TV.

The choices for some questions will be written down the page as shown. Now read Example 2 and indicate your answer.

Example 2

2. Which event would you prefer to attend?
   - □ basketball game
   - □ car show
   - □ concert
   - □ play

Make your answer mark clear and dark in the oval. If you make a mistake or want to change your answer, be sure to completely erase any unwanted marks.

Do not go past the STOP sign at the end of each section until you are told to do so.

If you finish before time is called, go back and check your work on that section only. Use your time carefully. Do as much as you can in each section.
In this section, please tell us about yourself and your family. The section has 13 questions. Mark your answers in your booklet. Fill in only one oval for each question except where instructed otherwise.

1. Are you Hispanic or Latino? Fill in one or more ovals.
   - ☐ No, I am not Hispanic or Latino.
   - ☐ Yes, I am Mexican, Mexican American, or Chicano.

V. NAEP Questions Tool

Introduction

After every assessment cycle, NAEP releases a portion of the assessment to the public. The NAEP Questions Tool (NQT) allows users to search for questions by subject, grade, difficulty, and other characteristics. You can also view scoring guides, keys, national performance data, demographic group data, and student responses (for constructed-response questions only). The tool also allows users to create customized reports and to print selected questions and all relevant information.

The purpose of the NQT is to provide teachers, researchers, educators, and the public with greater access to NAEP assessment exercises.

How do I access the NAEP Questions Tool?

The URL for the NAEP Questions Tool is http://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard/itmrlsx. The tool can also be accessed by clicking “Sample Questions” on The Nation’s Report Card home page.

What information can I get about each question?

When you select a question to view, a screen similar to the one below will be displayed.
Information related to the selected question is available by clicking the tabs at the top of the question field. A description of these tabs follows.

Question: When the screen first appears, the question will be displayed, and the Question tab will be highlighted. When you are viewing related information other than the question itself, click on this tab to re-display the question.

Links within the question: The question and related graphics or text passages may not fit on the screen area without scrolling. Some questions have associated content such as reading passages or maps. To see these materials, click on the link labeled “Show reading passage” or “additional materials.” This text varies depending on the subject. Click on “hide” to close the passage or associated material.

Kid Fights Cheater Meters and Wins!

The true story of a girl with a stopwatch and a bag of nickels who uncovered a local parking scandal and helped change the laws of her state . . .

Ellie Lammer wasn’t trying to spark a revolt, she just wanted a haircut. That was in the fall of 1997. Ellie was 11 years old at the time, and she was getting her tresses trimmed in her hometown of Berkeley, California. When Ellie and her mom returned to their car, they found a parking ticket stuck to the windshield. It didn’t seem possible: Less than an hour earlier, Ellie had pumped an hour’s worth of coins into the meter. But now the needle was at zero, and Ellie’s mom owed $20.

Feeling cheated, Ellie dropped another nickel in the meter and twisted the knob. The needle clicked over to the four-minute mark. Ellie stared at her watch while her mom watched the meter. Less than three minutes later, all of the time had expired. There it was: proof that they’d been cheated. The city tore up the ticket when Ellie’s mom complained about the meter.

But the experience left Ellie wondering how many other meters were inaccurate. Six months later, she decided to find out. She’d been looking around for a good science-fair project—and that meter in Berkeley still bothered her. So armed with a bag of nickels and a stopwatch, she hit the streets.

Key/Scoring Guide: Shows information about how the question was scored.

For Multiple-Choice Questions: Shows the “key” or correct answer for the question.

4. According to the article, what did Ellie learn from doing her meter project?

   A. Every fourth meter ran too quickly.
   B. Nine out of ten digital meters were accurate.
   C. 3,600 parking meters were inaccurate.
   D. Almost none of the 50 meters ran too slowly.

The correct answer is A.

VI. About NAEP

NAEP Overview. NAEP is the largest continuing and nationally representative assessment of what our nation’s students know and can do in core subjects. NAEP is administered by the National Center for Education Statistics within the Institute of Education Sciences of the U.S. Department of Education. For more information about the NAEP program, visit the NAEP website at http://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard or call 202–502–7420.

PARTICIPATION. States and districts that receive Title I funds are required to participate in biennial NAEP reading and mathematics assessments at grades 4 and 8. Student participation is always voluntary. Contact your school’s NAEP coordinator for more information.

NAEP CONTENT. The National Assessment Governing Board sets policy for NAEP and oversees the creation of the NAEP frameworks, which describe the specific knowledge and skills that should be assessed. For additional information on framework development, see the Governing Board’s website at http://www.nagb.org/publications/frameworks.htm.

SAMPLE NAEP QUESTIONS. For each assessment, some of the test questions, along with performance data, are made available to the public to provide concrete samples of NAEP contents and results. For every assessment, NAEP distributes to participating schools sample questions booklets that provide more detailed information about the assessment design and questions. Released questions and student performance data may be viewed and downloaded from the NCES website at http://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard/itmrlsx.

SECURE NAEP QUESTIONS. On written request, adults may review NAEP questions and instruments still in use. These arrangements must be made in advance, and persons reviewing the assessment may not remove the booklets from the room, copy them, or take notes. Contact your school’s NAEP coordinator for more information.

NAEP REPORTS. NAEP publications can be searched and downloaded from the NAEP website at http://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard.
