

The National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) assesses reading in three content areas in grade 8: reading for literary experience, to gain information, and to perform a task. The NAEP reading scale ranges from 0 to 500.

Overall Reading Results for Michigan

- In 2007, the average scale score for eighth-grade students in Michigan was 260. This was not significantly different from their average score in 2005 (261) and was lower than their average score in 2002 (265).¹
- Michigan's average score (260) in 2007 was not significantly different from that of the nation's public schools (261).
- Of the 52 states and other jurisdictions that participated in the 2007 eighth-grade assessment, students' average scale score in Michigan was higher than those in 10 jurisdictions, not significantly different from those in 15 jurisdictions, and lower than those in 26 jurisdictions.²
- The percentage of students in Michigan who performed at or above the NAEP Proficient level was 28 percent in 2007. This percentage was not significantly different from that in 2005 (28 percent) and was smaller than that in 2002 (32 percent).
- The percentage of students in Michigan who performed at or above the NAEP Basic level was 72 percent in 2007. This percentage was not significantly different from that in 2005 (73 percent) and was not significantly different from that in 2002 (77 percent).

Percentages at NAEP Achievement Levels and Average Score

NOTE: The NAEP grade 8 reading achievement levels correspond to the following scale points: Below Basic, 242 or lower; Basic, 243–280; Proficient, 281–322; Advanced, 323 or above.

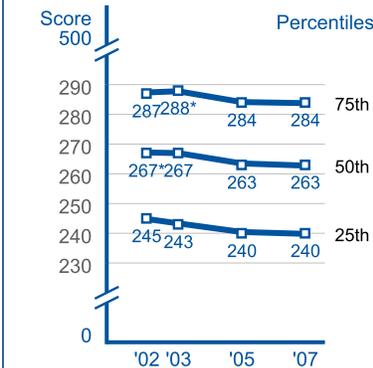

Performance of NAEP Reporting Groups in Michigan: 2007

Reporting groups	Percent of students	Average score	Percent below Basic	Percent of students at or above Basic	Percent Proficient	Percent Advanced
Male	50	255	33	67	23	1
Female	50	266	23	77	34	3

Average Score Gaps Between Selected Groups

- In 2007, male students in Michigan had an average score that was lower than that of female students by 11 points. In 2002, the average score for male students was lower than that of female students by 11 points.
- In 2007, Black students had an average score that was lower than that of White students by 31 points. In 2002, the average score for Black students was lower than that of White students by 28 points.
- In 2007, Hispanic students had an average score that was lower than that of White students by 26 points. Data are not reported for Hispanic students in 2002, because reporting standards were not met.
- In 2007, students who were eligible for free/reduced-price school lunch, a proxy for poverty, had an average score that was lower than that of students who were not eligible for free/reduced-price school lunch by 25 points. This performance gap was wider than that of 2002 (13 points).
- In 2007, the score gap between students at the 75th percentile and students at the 25th percentile was 44 points. In 2002, the score gap between students at the 75th percentile and students at the 25th percentile was 43 points.

Reading Scores at Selected Percentiles

NOTE: Scores at selected percentiles on the NAEP reading scale indicate how well students at lower, middle, and higher levels performed.

Rounds to zero.

‡ Reporting standards not met.

* Significantly different from 2007.

↑ Significantly higher than 2005. ↓ Significantly lower than 2005.

¹ Comparisons (higher/lower/narrower/wider/not different) are based on statistical tests. The .05 level was used for testing statistical significance. Statistical comparisons are calculated on the basis of unrounded scale scores or percentages. Comparisons across jurisdictions and comparisons with the nation or within a jurisdiction across years may be affected by differences in exclusion rates for students with disabilities (SD) and English language learners (ELL). The exclusion rates for SD and ELL in Michigan were 6 percent and "percentage rounds to zero" in 2007, respectively. For more information on NAEP significance testing see <http://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard/reading/interpret-results.asp#statistical>.

² "Jurisdictions" refers to states and the District of Columbia and the Department of Defense Education Activity schools.

NOTE: Detail may not sum to totals because of rounding and because the "Information not available" category for the National School Lunch Program, which provides free and reduced-price lunches, and the "Unclassified" category for race/ethnicity are not displayed.
