

A Profile of State Assessment Programs 2009

Since 2003, the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) has supported research that compares the proficiency standards of the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) with those of individual states. State assessments are placed onto a common scale defined by NAEP, which allows states' proficiency standards to be compared not only to NAEP, but also to each other.<sup>1</sup> While the mapped NAEP equivalent scores of state standards are useful in determining the relative rigor of states' proficiency standards, the results of the studies should be interpreted with caution. Variations among states can be due to many factors, including differences in assessment frameworks, test specifications, the psychometric properties of the tests, the definition of Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) standards, and the standard-setting process.

In 2007, in collaboration with the Education Information Management Advisory Consortium (EIMAC)—Task Force on Assessment of the Council of Chief State School Officers—NCES conducted a survey of state assessment programs to gain contextual information about the states' assessment programs in 2006–07 and to note changes in their assessments between the 2004–05 and 2006–07 school years that could affect the interpretation of the mapping results. The NAEP State Coordinator in every state was asked to provide information about the state's testing program through an online survey. After this information was verified and confirmed by the NAEP State Coordinator of each state, it was summarized in individual state profiles.<sup>2</sup> These profiles were designed in collaboration with a panel of NAEP State Coordinators.

In support of the 2009 Mapping Study, NAEP State Coordinators were asked by NCES to update the information collected on their state assessment program in 2007. Following similar verification steps, the information was summarized into profiles to provide a concise snapshot of all state assessment programs in the 2008–09 school year. Each profile presents information on the grades and subjects tested during the 2008–09 year, state performance levels and performance level descriptors, the composition of main state assessments, and changes to the state assessments between 2006–07 and 2008–09.

A sample profile is shown below. Information on the state assessment programs is presented in nine blocks. The first block combines all subjects. The remaining blocks (2–9) are presented twice, once for Reading/Language Arts and then for Mathematics. The example that follows is for Reading/Language Arts only. Some answers may have been edited for consistency or for space limitations; however, the substance of all answers is unchanged from what states provided to the NAEP State Coordinators. All web addresses in these profiles were verified on May 15, 2011. In any block, the symbol “—” indicates that a state's information was either not provided (for example, if there is no information on performance level descriptors of an alternate assessment for meeting AYP) or not applicable (for example, if the information relates to the proportion of the test score from short constructed response items, but the test does not use short constructed response items).

Block 1 summarizes information about each state’s testing program: the name of the program, the different tests, the type and format of each test, the grades and subjects tested, and the tests’ purpose. States were asked to enter up to four tests in Mathematics, English Language Arts, Reading, and Science. Response options for test type were: regular, alternate, modified, and portfolio assessments.<sup>3</sup> Response options for test format were: criterion-referenced (CRT), norm-referenced (NRT), combination CRT/NRT, and other formats. Response options for test purpose were: instructional, student accountability, school accountability, staff accountability, and other. Additional information provided by NAEP State Coordinators summarizing their states’ tests and test purposes is included at the end of the block. ### Performance Level Descriptors for Meeting Adequate Yearly Progress

Grade 4: Fourth-grade students performing at Level III demonstrate a fundamental knowledge of number sense by comparing and ordering decimals and writing money amounts in words and dollar-and-cent notation. These students often rename improper fractions and mixed numbers, add and subtract fractions with common denominators, round whole numbers and decimals, and recognize equivalent forms of common fractions and decimals. These students frequently solve word problems that involve addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division of whole numbers. Students performing at Level III write number sentences for word problems and complete addition and subtraction number sentences with a missing addend or subtrahend. These students identify geometric shapes based on their characteristics and find locations on a map or grid using ordered pairs. They usually calculate elapsed time and measure length, width, weight, and capacity using both metric and customary units as well as temperature in degrees Fahrenheit and Celsius. Fourth-grade students at Level III represent categorical data using tables and graphs; determine if outcomes of simple events are likely, unlikely, certain, equally likely, or impossible; and represent numerical data using tables and graphs.

Performance level descriptors are available online at:

<https://docs.alsde.edu/documents/91/ARMT%20Mathematics%20Performance%20Descriptors%20for%20Grades%204%206%20and%208.pdf>

Grade 8: Eighth-grade students performing at Level III demonstrate a fundamental ability to apply various strategies and operations to solve problems with real numbers, simplify expressions containing natural number exponents, and use order of operations to evaluate and simplify algebraic expressions. These students are able to graph linear relations by plotting points; solve problems involving linear functions, and solve multi-step linear equations. They solve problems using the Pythagorean Theorem and can compare some quadrilaterals, triangles, and solids using their properties and characteristics. Students at Level III determine the measures of special angle pairs; find the perimeter and area of regular and irregular plan figures; calculate the surface area and volume of rectangular prisms, cylinders, and pyramids; and determine the lengths of missing sides and measures of angles in similar figures. Students performing at Level III interpret data from populations and determine the theoretical probability of an event.
