Letter From Dr. Peggy Carr, NCES

As Associate Commissioner of the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES), and on behalf of the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP), I want to thank you for your participation in the 2019 NAEP assessments. The NAEP program is an essential measure of student achievement in the United States. NAEP results provide valuable information on what students in our country know and can do in various subjects.

In 2019, some American Indian and Alaska Native students participating in the NAEP assessments will also be asked to complete a 20-minute survey questionnaire as part of the National Indian Education Study (NIES). This booklet contains the student survey questionnaires for the 2019 National Indian Education Study (NIES) and general information about the NAEP assessments. For more details about NIES, please see page five of this booklet or visit https://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard/nies/. Survey questionnaires from previous assessment years are available at https://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard/nies/questionnaire.aspx.

Additional information for teachers and schools can be found at http://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard/educators, including more details about the NAEP assessment and the critical role of educators in the NAEP program.

If you have any questions or comments regarding NAEP or would like to view previous report cards, please visit the NAEP website at http://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard. To learn more about NAEP digitally based assessments and view tutorials, visit https://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard/dba.

NAEP is administered by the National Center for Education Statistics, within the U.S. Department of Education's Institute of Education Sciences. Policy for the assessment, including its content and standards, is set by the independent, bipartisan National Assessment Governing Board (http://www.nagb.org).

A project of the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES), Institute of Education Sciences, U.S. Department of Education.
II. National Indian Education Study

The National Indian Education Study (NIES) student survey questionnaires explore the educational and cultural experiences of the American Indian/Alaska Native (AI/AN) students participating in the NAEP assessments. The study is designed to discover various factors that might affect the educational achievement of AI/AN students.

Understanding the factors associated with academic performance will allow researchers and policymakers to address two overarching concerns related to AI/AN education:

1) Assessing the role of Native language and culture on the development of teaching and learning strategies that improve academic performance; and

2) Identifying principles and practices that shape curricula and instruction and ultimately enhance the academic achievement of AI/AN students. Samples of the questionnaires completed by the fourth- and eighth-graders participating in the study are presented in this booklet.

To access the 2019 NIES student survey questionnaires online, visit https://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard/experience/survey_questionnaires.aspx.

IV. NAEP 2019 Survey Questionnaires

Each year, students, teachers, and school administrators who participate in the NAEP assessments voluntarily complete survey questionnaires. Student survey questionnaires collect valuable information about students’ educational experiences, opportunities to learn both in and out of the classroom, and other factors related to student learning. While students are encouraged to answer as many questions as they feel comfortable with, they can skip any part of the questionnaire by leaving a response blank.

All data collected from the survey questionnaires will be used for statistical purposes only.* This data can help educators, policymakers, and researchers to better understand the context in which students learn, and, in turn, can help improve education in our nation’s classrooms.

To view the NAEP 2019 student survey questionnaires as well as survey questionnaires from previous assessment years, visit https://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard/experience/survey_questionnaires.aspx. You’ll also find student, teacher, and school survey questionnaires for other NAEP subjects, FAQs, and general information about NAEP survey questionnaires.

* All of the information provided by participants may be used only for statistical purposes and may not be disclosed, or used, in identifiable form for any other purpose except as required by law (20 U.S.C. §9573 and 6 U.S.C. §151). V. The NAEP Assessments

NAEP Overview

NAEP serves a different role than state assessments. While states have their own unique assessments with different content standards, the same NAEP assessment is administered in every state, providing a common measure of student achievement.

Each student answers questions in only one subject and one format—either a digitally based or a paper-based assessment. Each NAEP assessment takes approximately 90 to 125 minutes for a student to complete (including transition time, instructions, and completion of survey questions).

NAEP assessment results are reported for the nation in various subjects, and for states and selected large urban districts in certain subjects, but not for individual schools or students. Results of the 2019 mathematics, reading, and science assessments will be reported as The Nation’s Report Card. Assessment results are widely discussed in the press and are used by educators, researchers, policymakers, and elected officials to make decisions about education policy and funding. All data collected from the assessment results will be used for statistical purposes only.*

NAEP Frameworks

Each NAEP assessment is built around an organizing framework, which is the blueprint that guides the development of the assessment. The National Assessment Governing Board oversees the development of the NAEP frameworks, which describe the specific knowledge and skills to be assessed in each subject. Frameworks incorporate ideas and input from subject area experts, school administrators, policymakers, teachers, parents, and others. Learn more about NAEP frameworks at https://www.nagb.gov/naep-frameworks/frameworks-overview.html.

NAEP Digitally Based Assessments

Many of our nation's schools are equipped with computers, and an increasing number of schools are making digital tools an integral component of the learning environment, reflecting that the knowledge and skills needed for future educational and workplace success involve the use of new technologies. The NAEP program is evolving to address the changing educational landscape through its transition to digitally based assessments. These assessments allow for the collection of new types of data that provide in-depth understanding of what students know and can do in various subjects. Some questions may include multimedia, such as audio and video. Other questions may allow the use of embedded technological features (such as a scratchwork tool) to form a response, or may engage students in solving problems within realistic scenarios.

The NAEP digitally based assessments incorporate cutting-edge learning technologies. At the beginning of each assessment, students take a brief interactive tutorial designed to teach them about the system and the tools they use to take the assessment. Some parts of the tutorials are the same across subjects, while other parts are specific to each subject. For example, because mathematics uses different tools at each grade, there are different tutorials for each grade in mathematics.

VI. NAEP Questions Tool

Introduction

After every assessment cycle, the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) releases dozens of assessment questions to the public. Teachers, researchers, and the public can access these released questions using the NAEP Questions Tool (NQT). The NQT allows users to search for questions by subject, grade, difficulty, and other characteristics. You can also view scoring guides, keys, national performance data, demographic group data, and student responses (for constructed-response questions only). The tool also allows users to create customized reports and to print selected questions and all associated information.

How do I access the NAEP Questions Tool?
The NQT is available at https://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard/nqt.

What can I do with the NAEP Questions Tool?
The NQT provides easy-to-follow instructions so teachers, parents, and students can

• sort and select NAEP questions;
• “test yourself” on any NAEP subject with a customizable assessment function;
• create online, self-scoring assessments that students can login to take anytime; and
• compare results to how students performed across the nation.

If you need help navigating the NQT, there is a Help button on every page.

Where can I find more information about the subjects NAEP assesses?
The NAEP website contains a wealth of information about the subjects NAEP assesses and can be accessed at https://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard.

About NAEP

VII. About NAEP

OVERVIEW. NAEP is the largest nationally representative and continuing assessment of what our nation’s students know and can do in various academic subjects. NAEP is administered by the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES), located within the U.S. Department of Education's Institute of Education Sciences. For more information about the NAEP program, visit the NAEP website at https://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard.

PARTICIPATION. States and districts that receive Title I funds are required to participate in NAEP reading and mathematics assessments at grades 4 and 8 every other year. Student participation is always voluntary. Your school's NAEP coordinator can provide you with more information. Contact your school for details.

CONTENT. The National Assessment Governing Board, an independent body of educators, community leaders, and assessment experts, sets policy for NAEP and oversees the creation of the NAEP frameworks, which describe the specific knowledge and skills that should be assessed. For additional information on framework development, visit the Governing Board’s website at https://www.nagb.gov/naep-frameworks/frameworks-overview.html.

SAMPLE QUESTIONS. For each assessment, some of the test questions, along with performance data, are made available to the public to provide concrete samples of NAEP content and results. For every assessment, NAEP provides sample questions booklets for participating schools as well as information about the assessment design and questions. Released questions and student performance data may be viewed and downloaded from the NCES website at https://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard/nqt.

SECURE QUESTIONS. On written request, parents and educators may review NAEP questions and instruments still in use. These arrangements must be made in advance, and persons reviewing the assessment may not remove the booklets from the room, copy them, or take notes. Contact your school's NAEP coordinator for more information.

PUBLICATIONS. NAEP reports and brochures can be searched and downloaded from the NAEP website at https://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard.
