The National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) is the primary federal entity for collecting, analyzing, and reporting data related to education in the United States and other nations. It fulfills a congressional mandate to collect, collate, analyze, and report full and complete statistics on the condition of education in the United States; conduct and publish reports and specialized analyses of the meaning and significance of such statistics; assist state and local education agencies in improving their statistical systems; and review and report on education activities in foreign countries.

NCES activities are designed to address high priority education data needs; provide consistent, reliable, complete, and accurate indicators of education status and trends; and report timely, useful, and high quality data to the U.S. Department of Education, the Congress, the states, other education policymakers, practitioners, data users, and the general public.

We strive to make our products available in a variety of formats and in language that is appropriate to a variety of audiences. You, as our customer, are the best judge of our success in communicating information effectively. If you have any comments or suggestions about this or any other NCES product or report, we would like to hear from you. Please direct your comments to:

Foreword

Each year a large number of written documents are generated by NCES staff and individuals commissioned by NCES which provide preliminary analyses of survey results and address technical, methodological, and evaluation issues. Even though they are not formally published, these documents reflect a tremendous amount of unique expertise, knowledge, and experience.

The Working Paper Series was created in order to preserve the information contained in these documents and to promote the sharing of valuable work experience and knowledge. However, these documents were prepared under different formats and did not undergo vigorous NCES publication review and editing prior to their inclusion in the series. Consequently, we encourage users of the series to consult the individual authors for citations.

Overview of the 1995 National Household Education Survey (NHES:95)

The NHES:95 is designed to cover two topical components: Early Childhood Program Participation (ECPP) and Adult Education (AE). Each of these components is related to one of the President's and Governors' National Education Goals. The ECPP component addresses issues of importance to Goal 1, "By the year 2000, all children in America will start school ready to learn." The AE component is associated with Goal 6, which states that "By the year 2000, every adult American will be literate and will possess the knowledge and skills necessary to compete in a global economy and exercise the rights and responsibilities of citizenship." ECPP and AE were also addressed in a previous administration of the NHES in 1991. Based on that experience and on the recommendations of experts in the relevant fields, modifications to the components were made for the 1995 administration.

The NHES:95 is a cross-sectional telephone survey of households with data collection occurring in January through April of 1995. Households were sampled using list-assisted random digit dialing methods. About 45,500 households were screened to identify eligible respondents.

Target Populations and Sample Sizes

The ECPP component includes all children from birth through 3rd grade, up to age 10 (as of December 31, 1994). The parent or guardian who knows the most about the child's care and education were interviewed. Typically, the respondents to the ECPP interview were the mothers of the sampled children. Up to two children in each household were selected.

For the AE component, interviews were conducted with persons who were age 16 and older and not enrolled in elementary or secondary school. Adults who had not finished high school and persons identified as adult education participants at the screening stage were oversampled. In most households, only one adult was interviewed; two adults were sampled if one or more adults in the household were AE participants who had not completed high school. In order to examine methodological issues associated with the measurement of adult education participation, a brief interview replicating the NHES:91 items determining participation status was also conducted with a special sample of adults, called the splice sample.

Table 1. Number of completed interviews for the NHES:95

Type of interview	Number of completed interviews
Early Childhood Program Participation Interview	14,064
Adult Education Interview	19,722
Splice Sample Adult Education Interview	3,569

Content of the NHES:95 Early Childhood Program Participation (ECPP) Component

The ECPP component focuses on children’s participation in a range of care arrangements and program settings. It addresses nonparental care, that is care by persons other than the child’s own parents or guardians. The ECPP interview contains three major "paths" or sets of questions that are appropriate to the three populations of interest: infants/toddlers (children age 0 to 2), preschoolers (those children age 3 and older who are not yet enrolled in kindergarten), and kindergartners and primary school students through third grade. While some items are different for kindergartners and primary students, their interview paths are largely the same.

Content of the NHES:95 Adult Education (AE) Component

The NHES:95 AE component addresses participation in a wide variety of educational activities. These include programs to improve basic skills and obtain a high school equivalency certificate, English as a Second Language (ESL) courses, credential programs for certificates or degrees, apprenticeships, courses related to work, other formal structured courses taken for any reason, and computer-only or video-only instruction on the job. This broad view of adult education is designed to provide a comprehensive picture of the extent to which adults in the United States are participating in a wide range of educational activities. Within these types of education, participants were asked about topics such as the amount of time spent in programs or courses, costs associated with participation, employer support of participation, and motivations for taking the courses or programs.

INTRO. [READ DISPLAY IF RESPONDENT WAS NOT SCREENER RESPONDENT:]
 [Hello, this is (INTERVIEWER). I'm calling on behalf of the U.S. Department of Education. We are conducting a voluntary and confidential study about the educational experiences of young children.]
 I'd like to talk with you now about (CHILD). These questions usually take about (10 to 15/10) minutes.

A1. [Before we begin, I'd like to confirm (his/her) age.] In what month and year was (CHILD) born?

CDOBMM	MONTH ()		YEAR ()

*Calculate AGE94 = child's age on December 31, 1994.
 Calculate current age for display in A2.*

A2. That would mean that (CHILD) [is (AGE)/turns (AGE) this month]. Is that right?

- * YES 1 (GO TO A3)
 NO 2 (RETURN TO A1)

If AGE94 => 11, go to CLOSE1. Else, ask A3.

A3. Is (CHILD)...

| | What is that? _____ | |

NOTE: Response categories shown in mixed cases (upper and lower) are read to the respondent by the interviewer. Those shown in all upper case are not read. Those shown in italics were added during data cleaning (i.e., additional codes were created from among the "specify" responses).

NOTE: In general, variables designated by /R appear on the restricted file only. However, some variables with this designation contained no responses and therefore were not included on the restricted file. Please consult the Proprietary Data File User's Guide for a specification of which variables were excluded from the file.

NOTE: Questions designated by * do not appear on any data file. They were used for administrative, verification, or coding purposes only.

A4. Is (he/she) of Hispanic origin?
